

SULLY PRIMARY SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

22nd May 2020

This week at Sully PS.....

Dear Parents/Carers,

I hope you are all safe and well and managing to enjoy the good weather we have been blessed with of late.

You will, I am sure, have read and heard media reports speculating on when schools in Wales will be opening. There has yet to be any definitive decision made by Welsh Government as to when this may happen and in what guise it may initially form. As soon as we have any relevant information to share regarding this we will contact you.

Whilst our school site remains closed, our community stays well and truly open and I would like to take this opportunity to thank you all for the effort you are putting into your child's home learning. I have access to Google Classroom, J2Homework, Seesaw, Twitter, Facebook and I am hugely impressed to see so many of our children engaging in the tasks set. However, please remember to put yours and your families well-being first and if some days things don't work out as planned regarding home learning, then so be it.

It is also very important for me to acknowledge the efforts of all our staff and thank them for their hard work. I feel very honoured to be leading such a wonderfully committed, supportive and talented team at this current time.

I hope you all manage to get some relaxation during the half term holiday. Our staff will be recharging their batteries and will be back setting work through all normal communication platforms from 1st June onwards.

Take care and stay safe,

Andrea Waddington
Acting Headteacher, Sully PS

This has been Mental Health Awareness Week. Although the week is nearly over, why not try the ideas on the Kindness Calendar below next week, during half-term?

*This week's value is KINDNESS

We hope that you enjoyed Mrs Waddington's assembly on the theme of kindness. You can find it on our school Facebook page if you haven't already seen it.

If you click on the following link, you will find some more ideas compiled by the Mental Health Foundation, and kindness is particularly important during this lockdown period:

COMMUNICATION WITH STAFF

A reminder that all weekly overviews for Home Learning can be found on the classes section of our Website and on Google Classroom, J2E and Seesaw.

After Half Term, teachers will be uploading a welcome to the week video for their children, highlighting the activities to be carried out and making comment on work from the previous week. They will also aim to include more videos and links to videos in an attempt to give further explanation/direction of the concepts being taught.

Should you have any questions about the work or need support with it, please get in touch with your child's class teacher by email at the email address supplied below.

Please only email about school work - if you require information about anything else related to school or the hub, please contact the school at sullyps@valeofglamorgan.gov.uk or Mrs Waddington at waddingtona2@hwbcymru.net.
